

What About That Dandruff?

There is just this much about it: Dandruff is a germ disease, is most untidy, annoying, and leads to baldness. When chronic, it is very stubborn, but surely yields to thorough and energetic treatment. All germs must be destroyed, the scalp must be restored to health. Here is the remedy: Ayer's Hair Vigor. Ask your doctor about using it.

NOTES ON VARIOUS SPORTS

Remarkable baseball play was witnessed on August 27 by the Washington fans, in a double header between the Nationals and the Tigers, both games going to the credit of the Washington nine. The outstanding features of the play were the brilliant batting of Clyde Milan and the unselfish play of Killifer. Milan went seven times to bat, he made five hits, scored four runs, stole two bases, sacrificed once and walked once.

Though this is no doubt a remarkable record, it could not have been possible without the assistance of Killifer. Counting the first inning of the second game Killifer made five consecutive sacrifices.

Such a remarkable combination is seldom seen in a league game. Milan scored all the runs (3) in the opening game and he made one in the second. Walker pitched for the Nationals in a manner which recalled past champion twirlers, and he held the Detroit nine down to five base hits. In the second inning Beckendorf and Johnson were in the box and the latter, up to the first of the ninth, had allowed only five widely scattered hits and one run. Then the Tigers got savage and attacked him fiercely, with the result that two doubles, three singles and three runs were bagged. But it was not enough to win by and Washington took the game five-four.

Hugh J. McIntosh, the greatest promoter ever produced in Australia, has signed up Jack Johnson, Tommy Burns, Sam Langford, Bill Lang and Billy Papke to accompany him to Australia, where the promised land for the roped arena stars is thought to lie.

Who will fight Jack Johnson? This question is still agitating the minds of boxing enthusiasts, and the suggestions which are made in most all of the sporting papers of the States are in many cases ludicrous, to say the least. An unknown named Cook, from Iowa, jumped into the limelight only to be relegated to the dim shades of oblivion again: Frank Gotch, the champion wrestler, is also on the cards but he is not being taken seriously. England has an aspirant in Bombardier Wells, but his claims do not excite much comment, in view of the poor showings made by Gunner Moir and Ian Hague. And so the roll of would-be champions grows almost daily, and just as quickly their names are forgotten.

Speaking of Gotch reminds me that he has made an announcement that he has retired from the sport for good and has taken up what he terms "professional farming." In his time Gotch has had 331 matches and he has only seven defeats up against him. Of these, five were handicap matches in which he failed to throw his opponent as many times as he bargained for.

Joe Gans, affectionately termed the "Old Master" by many of his admirers, died of consumption late in August. His illness was not considered critical and his demise came as a great surprise and shock to hundreds of followers of the game. In the heyday of his youth Gans was without an equal in the lightweight division.

Canada is to be represented at the Henley next season by an eight-oared crew from Ottawa, and an attempt will be made to secure the grand challenge cup. The Ottawa council has already voted $500 toward the project. It was understood that this would be done if the Ottawa eight won in the senior event at Washington. The Canadians were successful, and the trip is to be in the nature of a reward. There was no opposition on the Potomac that could class with the crews the Canadians will have to meet in England, and there is nothing to indicate that Ottawa has an extraordinary eight, which can be done between now and the next Henley regatta, however, and Canadians are noted for their pluck.

Australasia is to retain possession of the Davis international lawn tennis cup for yet another year, but it is to be regretted by all tennis players united to hold the coveted trophy that the Antipodeans are to be per without even an effort being made to wrest it from them. Since A. F. Widding and Norman Brooks won the cup in England two years ago, there has only been one series of matches for its possession; that was last year when the Americans after defeating the English challengers went to Australia and were beaten by the Australians. This year the English team will not enter the lists and it is now reported from Philadelphia that owing to inability to secure a representative team the United States has withdrawn its challenge for the cup. This is indeed disappointing.

Referring to the Langford-Jeanette contest at Boston on September 6, the S. F. Examiner remarked that Langford had all the better of the fight, repeatedly shooting his left to Jeanette's kidneys and then his right to the jaw. Jeanette could not face the avalanche of blows which Langford rained upon him and broke ground time and time again. In the fifteenth, and last round, Langford kept after his opponent and landed blow after blow but Jeanette evaded a knockout. A second before the bell changed to finish the contest, Langford smashed Jeanette on the jaw and the big fellow tottered to the floor. At that moment the round ended and Jeanette was taken to his corner saving a knockout being registered against him. Langford secured the decision.

Seattle advises under date September 9 state that the University of Chicago baseball team won their first game played with a team composed entirely of Japanese players when they defeated the Mikado Club of that city by a score of 15 to 1. The Chicago team will sail on the Japanese steamer Kamskura Maru for Yokohama.

Ty Cobb's eye has been causing some concern to the ball-player and his many friends but the following announcement by the oculist will allay many of the fears expressed.

"Ty Cobb is being treated by me for ecyctitis of the right eye. This condition is serious, as it is an inflammation of one of the most important structures of the eye. The treatment demanded in his case necessitates the relaxation of the focusing apparatus of the eye. I have advised him to remain out of the game for several days at least. I feel sure that no permanent injury to his sight will result from this inflammation, providing that he now takes a stitch in time in the way of complete rest."

The following were the positions of the teams in the American and National League when the last mail left Frisco on September 10:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Clubs	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Philadelphia	88	40	.678
New York	74	40	.652
Boston	73	54	.575
Detroit	73	56	.566
Washington	59	72	.451
Cleveland	56	71	.441
Chicago	50	77	.394
St. Louis	39	89	.305

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Clubs	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Chicago	84	38	.689
Pittsburg	75	50	.600
New York	70	53	.569
Philadelphia	66	61	.520
Cincinnati	64	65	.496
Brooklyn	49	76	.392
St. Louis	49	75	.395
Boston	45	84	.349

Portland leads in the Pacific Coast League with .569; Oakland follows with .556; Vernon .500; Los Angeles .494; and Sacramento .337.

As an exposition of American football under this year's revised rules the game between Alameda High School and the Century Club, played on September 9 in Alameda, was a failure. To all appearances the men were attempting to play the old five-yard game. In fact, the only new feature was the dividing of time into four periods instead of the customary halves. Alameda won the game 6 to 0. From a spectacular point of view the contest was devoid of interest. Misinterpretation or ignorance of the new rules on the part of most of the players caused frequent delays for reference to the rule book and the referee had his hands full endeavoring to straighten out some of the complications which arose. Neither team seemed to have the slightest comprehension of the new rules regarding interference, it being mainly on this point that misunderstandings arose.

The tennis championships at Del Monte were nearly completed when round in ladies' singles was finished when Miss Hazel Hotchkiss was defeated by Miss May Sutton in a hard three-set match. Miss Sutton will play her sister Miss Florence, in the challenge match for the championship. The men's singles was brought to the same stage when Melville Long defeated Gerald Young in a three-set match. Long will meet George Jones in the challenge round of this event. In the mixed doubles Miss May Sutton and Gerald Young will play the final match against Miss Hotchkiss and Melville Long, and as the present champions will not defend, the winners will secure the championship title. The men's doubles for the Del Monte cups also reached the final round and the teams to contend for their possession are Young and Suga-baugh and Bacon and Young.

Kalakia got the long term nomination, and Eddie Hanapi the short term. The convention ratified this action of the two district selections.

361 WAS THE LUCKY NUMBER

Though expected to arrive here at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Canadian-Australian Company's liner Zealandia did not reach port until six p. m. The vessel carried a full cargo, of which only sixty tons were consigned to Honolulu, the balance being for the Fiji and Australia. She carried 303 passengers, of whom 43 disembarked here. The Zealandia left Vancouver, B. C., at 4:15 p. m. on the 9th instant and arrived at Victoria at 8:45 on the same day, leaving again at midnight for Honolulu. Fine weather with smooth seas was experienced throughout the trip and the passengers speak highly of the accommodations of the vessel and the treatment accorded to them by the officers on board.

The vessel made good time. During the voyage an extraordinary coincidence occurred, which illustrates the remarkably consistent running of the Zealandia. On the 11th instant 361 knots were logged, and on the 12th and 13th and 14th exactly the same number was registered daily. On the 15th the log showed 359, and on the 16th it was once more 361. Thus for five days out of six the same number of miles were logged.

This running created considerable comment and surprise among the passengers, as indeed it well might, for it is a very rare occurrence.

Among the passengers on board the Zealandia who dropped off the vessel here were the three Misses Harrison, the daughters of Fred Harrison, the well-known contractor. The young ladies returned from a visit to Victoria which has extended for almost a year.

Mr. C. F. Jenkins, of the Hawaiian Fertilizer Company, also returned, and A. W. Perelstrous, the Russian nobleman who interested himself in the Russian immigration question, also returned.

In transit, the Zealandia carries quite a number of sporting men, including W. F. Corbett, one of the best known sporting scribes in the world. Mr. Corbett is connected with the Referee, Sunday Times and Daily Telegraph, of Sydney, Australia, and he was specially despatched to Reno to describe the Jeffries-Johnson fight. In addition to writing up this contest for his own papers Corbett was commissioned by several of the

The two districts then canvassed separately, receiving nominations for the house.

The result of the balloting in the fourth was as follows: Rivenburgh, 51; Turill, 56; Wolter, 95; Keawehaku, 50; Morse, 73; Weed, 28; G. Lowe, 27; Meheula, 53; Benevides, 74. Wolter, Keawehaku, Benevides, Morse, Turill and Meheula were declared the six selected.

The result of the balloting in the fifth showed Ed. Like, 55; S. Kaohela, 28; D. Kamahu, 21; J. Makanani, 20; Max Schlemmer, 8; Kupieha, 31; J. M. Poepee, 22; Kaal, 9; J. Kekoa, 9; J. Keawe, 1; those declared elected being E. L. Like, S. Kaohela, D. Kupieha, J. M. Poepee, Gus Keleiohanu, Luka Kealiiki.

The mayor announced that a mass meeting would be held at Aala Park tonight.

Chairman Watson gave notice that a meeting of the county committee would be held at headquarters on Monday night.

A Plank Overlooked.
In the rush of getting the various planks of the Democratic territorial convention together, after the platform had been adopted by the convention, Secretary T. J. Ryan overlooked one important plank which should have been in the published platform. It was as follows:

"We favor a tariff duty of ten cents per pound of coffee, believing that such a duty would speedily develop the coffee industry in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines to such an extent as to fully supply the American market, thereby rendering just and necessary assistance to the small landholder in all the islands acquired by the United States.

"While the American consumer must pay the advanced price, he should take some interest in bringing about conditions in those islands such as will enable the inhabitants thereof to gain a livelihood in their native land and not driven to the necessity of entering the mainland to engage in competition with the American workingman. We also favor a sufficient tariff duty upon bananas, rice and such other island products as can be grown and marketed by the small landholder."

leading American journals to perform a like service for them. Thomas S. Andrews, who is acting as manager of the American pugilists engaged by Hugh J. McIntosh to tour Australia, is on board with his charges. These are Billy Papke, who is to meet Ed. Williams and three others of Australia's best; Cyclone Johnnie Thompson, who had a forfeit of $5000 up to meet Volgaat, but failed to get his money covered; Ray Bronson of Indianapolis, a lightweight who fought a twenty round draw with Packey McFarland in New Orleans, and also one with Cyclone Thompson; Jimmie Clabby, of Milwaukee, a welter-weight with aspirations towards the world's championship in his division. Andrews, who is the sporting scribe of the Evening Wisconsin, is accompanied by his wife and Papke has also brought his bride along.

The pugilists bring news of an accident which occurred to Tommy Burns during a lacrosse game, the result of which it is feared will prevent Burns from again entering the ring. During a game Burns strained the tendon of his right knee and the day following the game he could not move the injured member. It will, even under the most favorable circumstances, be two months before Burns can move his leg. As he is matched to fight Sam Langford in London in December the mishap is a most unfortunate one. It was proposed to put the winner up against Johnson, but it is probable that the Burns-Langford fight will be called off.

Dr. Charles McLaurin, member of the Legislative Council of New South Wales, is returning by the Zealandia, as is also Frank Denison Brown, general manager in Australia of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. Mr. Brown is accompanied by his wife and has been to the head office of the company in New York.

The list of passengers for Honolulu is as follows: Miss E. Percey, Miss M. Gardner, H. W. Pope, Mrs. H. W. Pope, J. W. Ramsey, Mrs. J. W. Ramsey, C. F. Jenkins, D. H. L. Dickev, J. Smeaton, C. McNab and wife, Miss McNab, M. D. Flegel, Miss O. Cousins, Miss F. Cousins, Miss N. Ellison, Miss L. G. Cameron, Miss Helen Russell, A. McLanen, Miss M. de Mayer, Mrs. L. G. Turner, D. F. Turin, E. J. Cooper and wife, V. Victorson, Miss Harrison, Miss E. Harrison, Miss S. Harrison, A. Perelstrous, Miss Denyer, H. E. Hansen and wife, C. Verste, W. Wylie, F. Amiel, G. Amiel, E. D. Hallet, F. Worsop, J. Rohde, E. Stanley, W. H. Batteraby, J. S. Greaves.
